Dear Friends and Family:

The Regina Cross Country team would like to attend a training camp this season and purchase new uniforms, but we need your help.

Frederick J Bart, the father of one of our runners, has graciously offered to donate the royalties from the sale of his new book, Middle Class To Millionaire, to our team. Our team risks nothing. He will donate his actual royalties as well as match it with personal funds.

Why would he do this? Well, the last chapter of the book is titled "Giving Feels Good", so that provides some insight. Also, he wants to sell the international rights to the book, but needs more U.S. sales to interest the foreign market.

It is an easy to read book, with lots of simple way to reduce spending and increase savings...with the goal of having people of average incomes become millionaires. The information applies to anyone from high school or older--so it makes a perfect gift idea

The chapter "Make Your Child A Millionaire" really has my interest piqued, I'd like to provide financial security for my children—something that most of our parents didn't do for us.

What can you do to help the Regina Cross Country Team?

(1) Purchase at least one copy of the book, if you're able. The book makes an excellent gift for anyone of high school age or older.

--AND--

(2) Forward this email to the contacts in your computer's address book.

We're hoping that each member of our team can sell about 30 copies of the book (which seems to be an average of other groups).

Here's how it works:

Go to www.MiddleClassToMillionaire.com to order the book.

At the check-out, enter the code RXC (for Regina Cross Country) and our team will get $4 for every book purchased. Our team hopes it can count on supporters like you.

Thank you!
